Re: Boontiva Truong-Quang

To Whom It May Concern:

I have known Boontiva for over 15 years, personally and professionally. I have taken many yoga classes from her, and have been consistently impressed with her approach and expertise. I know many yoga instructors, having taken a wide variety of classes, but have never encountered a teacher who embodies yoga she does. Her training runs deep and wide. She is the quintessential professional, while remaining warm, personable and accessible. Her ethics are impeccable. With a profound grasp on all things yoga, Boontiva's relentless quest for a yogic lifestyle is evidenced in her daily practice and in her commitment to her students. She is extremely knowledgeable and is tireless in her pursuit of wisdom and is a lighthouse to us all. She is humble, strong, poised and gentle.

I have personally benefited greatly in many ways from Boontiva's insight, excellence in teaching and encyclopedic information in the field of yoga. Any group, individual, any setting would be greatly enhanced by her teaching and persona. Her presence is that of a true yogi; grounded, mild, meek and very great. She is open-minded, self-regulating, curious, interested, game, fun, lively, humble, present, aware and a superb teacher. I have been remarkably, unusually blessed to have her as my friend and teacher.

Sincerely,
